Bloodmobile Short of Quota

Only 24 pints of blood were received here at the first visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile last Friday. There were an equal number of "rejects," attributed to the epidemic of colds and flu at that time. This showing was well below expectations, and R. V. Leffers the chairman of the Blood Program, stated yesterday that he hoped the county's quota would be made up the next visitation. He also thanked all those assisted in any way in last week's visit.

MISS ANTHONY TO SPEAK TO COUNTY TEACHERS

Martha Anthony, the new president of the Virginia Education Association, is a native of Patrick County. She began her teaching career in her own county. She taught English and United States History. She had the pleasure and privilege of teaching some of her younger brothers and sisters.

Martha was only four when she started school in a one-room school house in the Stella community. She was allowed to enter the first grade only to accompany her six-year-old sister, Nannie Sue. The sisters attended school and college together, and they taught in the same school. In 1957, her sister died.

At Longwood College, Martha majored in English and social studies, being the first student to graduate with "Honors in English," under the current honor program. She was elected to membership in Kappa Delta Pi and Pi Gamma Mu. Her love of reading and interest in the guidance of her children to books and in literature classes led her to attain her A. B. degree in Library Science at William and Mary College. She is now enrolled in graduate work in instructional program at the University of Virginia.

From Patrick County, Martha moved to Chesterfield County. She taught in the elementary grades in the Ettrick School. Later she went to Ridgeway High School in Henry County, as teacher, librarian. For the past thirteen years, she has served with distinction in Martinsville High School, as librarian, coordinator of literary and dramatic activities. Martha seems to be a natural leader. She has served as president of Martinsville Education Association, president of District E, she is a life member of the National Education Association conventions. Miss Anthony is a most versatile person. She is active in Martinsville Business and Professional Woman's Club, American Cancer Society, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and the Community Theater.

Regardless of her busy professional life, Martha finds plenty of time for her religious activities. She is a faithful member of New Hope Baptist Church, Critz. She teaches the Adult Sunday School Class, and serves on many committies.

The Appomattox County Teachers Association is indeed fortunate in securing Miss Anthony to be guest speaker at its regular meeting, which will be held Feb. 16, at 7:30 P. M., in the auditorium of Appomattox High School.

Methodists Plan Training Study

The Annual Appomattox Christian Workers' Training School, sponsored by the twelve Methodist Churches of the area, will be held in Memorial Church, Appomattox, March 14-18 1960. CRIPPLED CHILDRENS HOME PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

Miss Karleen Ingersoll, Administrator of Crippled Children's Hospital had 413 admissions during 1959. These patients came from 87 Virginia counties and 20 Virginia cities, and all were treated free of charge. Only children whose families cannot pay for the necessary treatment are admitted to Crippled Children's Hospital. The annual report also noted that 544 Operations were performed and 819 casts were applied during the year. Physicians give their services to make this possible. Over 6,000 physical therapy treatments were given.

Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond is the only free hospital in the State of Virginia operated exclusively for the care of Virginia's crippled and deformed children. The Treasurer, Mrs. James W. Dodd, reported that the hospital's recent appeal for funds still lags by about $37,000. The hospital receives no funds from the Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults and does not benefit from the sale of Easter Seals.

D. A. R. Chapter Meet in Pamplin

The Appomattox Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Monday, Feb. 15, in the home of Mrs. Stuart Fararr, with Miss Kate Franklin as co-hostess.

Calvin Robinson Editor of The Times-Virginian, will speak to the group on "The Virginia Heritage in History." As February has been designated as American History Month by Governor J. Lindsay Almond, the D. A. R. is particularly emphasizing during this month the necessity for knowledge and understanding of our proud heritage.

Time to Ask Measurement

Tobacco growers who plan to have their 1960 tobacco allotments premeasured by ASC should file requests at the County Office at once. According to C. D. Lewis, chairman of the Appomattox ASC County Committee, the closing date for accepting applications for 1960 crop premeasurement is February 25.

Mr. Lewis stated that approximately 150 applications are already on file and reporters have started with the field work. The job must be completed by May 1.

The premeasurement service in Appomattox County is the larger of $6.00 per farm or $2.00 per farm plus $1.50 per acre for each acre over fraction thereof to be measured. To be assured of not underplanting or overplanting, growers should carefully consider the premeasurement program.

FOCUS WEEK

The Y. W. A.'s of the Red Oak Baptist Church will have charge of Focus Week from February 14 through 20.

The aim of Focus Week is to bring anew the attention of Y. W. A. members and also communities members the true meaning of membership. Also to focus anew the activity. Week should be committed to church and community. Last, but not least, it is to extend the influence of mission, with girls to Christ, and to re-enlist inactive members.

TOBACCO MARKETS CLOSE

The eighth and last full week of auctions on the Farmville Tobacco Market last week added 282,122 pounds to the season, now 4,176,902 pounds.

Not since the 1956 crop in a year before the soil bank program, has the market auctioned that much tobacco. The acreage reserve program of the soil bank was discontinued last year, and much of the darkfired acreage re-planted in tobacco last spring.

Last week's sales brought the total of grower receipts this season to $1,526,717. That also was exceeded in recent years only by the 1956 crop, which with a season average of $39.38, produced the best returns since 1951.

Through last week's auctions the dark-fired tobacco season average was $36.73, while the sun-cured average for the whole auction period is $30.48.

American History Month

February is American History Month, sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. American History Month is an opportunity for you to help remind Americans that freedom is not free. To pay our debts to the past and understand our obligations to the future, we must realize that the freedom which is ours to enjoy, and our challenge to keep, came about through the sacrifice, wisdom, perseverance and great faith of our forefathers. Read and know your American History.

Top news in Virginia this week has been the fate of the sales tax proposal of Governor J. Lindsay Almond, Jr. The General Assembly has faced the huge tax increase proposal head-on, with indications of a slight majority opposed to the sales tax. The Governor has proposed hundred get outlays which call for a very sizeable increase in revenue if the state is to keep from deficit financing. The chief receitve called for the sales tax as a way out. Many of the leading legislators have differed.

Early in the week, by a vote of 11 to 8, the Senate Finance Committee apparently dealt a death blow to the Almond 3 per cent sales tax bill. Most representatives from this area were reported as opposed to the Governor's big tax increase program. Although not a member of the Senate Finance Committee, Senator Chas. T. Moore, of Appomattox, is listed as cool to a sales tax. Senator Moss agrees that more money may have to be raised, but hopes that the money for essential progress can be raised by other means. The state currently has a very sizeable surplus in its treasury.

Also leading in a careful questioning of a sales tax has been Senator Harry F. Byrd, Jr., often mentioned as a top figure in the list of possible candidates for Governor to succeed Almond.

Almond forces in the Assembly have softened their proposals in an effort to gain support. They plan, to suggest a 2 per cent sales tax, and to exempt food and prescription drugs and possibly other items.

Alternative proposals to raise more money have included a suggested increase in the state income tax, and an added tax on whiskey and beer.

Some belief is held that the state will need at least $84 million over the next two years to finance expansions and programs some hold will be essential in progress. The election hosts to the view that some way must be found to meet these needs, and it is his opinion that sales tax is the best answer. However, large numbers of legislators are not convinced that all other avenues of approach have been exhausted, and look to a relief tax since a sales tax program is starting hot, whether it starts with 2 per cent, or 2 per cent, and with or without whatever exemptions, the state's tax policy would be committed to a new system and that it gradually would look toward inflationary tendencies.

Very likely, some new tax increases will be enacted, but State Senator E. O. McCue, Jr. of Abingdon, is quoted as saying: "Any general sales tax legislation is a dead duck for this session."

NEW PARCEL POST RATES AVERAGE 14 PERCENT HIKE

Persons using parcel post mailing service now are helping cover the Postal Department from its traditional deficit financing to paying as you go. Since February 1 they're paying an average 17 per cent higher rate.

The higher rates, authorized by Congress last fall and effective February 1, will net the government an estimated 88 million dollars a year. That gain will be used to cut down the deficit on this fourth class kind of mailing.
